Banker Forecasts Gold Mining Boom In State

SACRAMENTO, April 20— A strong revival in gold mining in California was predicted to-day by Clarence E. Jarvis, Sacramento banker and an interested student in the industry, as a result of America's decision to go off the gold standard.

"At least 10,000 men should be Lode region alone and the mining of low-grade ore, heretofore almost an economic impossibility, will be made profitable," he declared.

TO PEG GOLD HIGHER

"Gold is a precious metal and practically the scarcest of all the precious metals. Consequently, an abundance of gold never will be produced.

"With the price at $20.67 an ounce before the United States went off the gold standard, it is my belief congress will now peg gold at about $25. The effect of this rise should increase gold mining tremendously.

MINING MORE PROFITABLE

"Mines could afford to pay a fair compensation insurance rate and production costs would be reduced 20 per cent because the gold would be worth more.

"With gold pegged at the higher figure, mines would be able to mine low grade ores at a profit. The margin now just about amounts to 20 per cent making most operations unprofitable.

"With increased production, the metal would give the United States government increased credit — 20 per cent more for all the gold it now has and 20 per cent more than the present value of all additional gold mined."

Jarvis advocated a world gold conference to establish a uniform value of $25 per ounce for gold.

INFLATION FAVORED

"Against this gold," Jarvis said, "the nations could issue currency on the 20 per cent inflation basis. This would give all countries more money and make them better able to pay us their debts.

"The flow of currency, and possibly trade, too, would be greatly stimulated with all nations on an equal basis, but since most countries owe us, America would be the real gainer."

Jarvis recently gave a talk before a Sacramento service club in which he pointed out the advantages of increasing the value of gold.

N. I. D. To Serve Big Placer County Area

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20— Announcement is expected to be made here tomorrow, or shortly thereafter, by the Pacific Gas and Electric company of completion of a deal whereby the Nevada Irrigation District will take over the Gold Hill system of irrigation ditches in Placer county.

Previously it had been announced by William Durbrow, manager of the Nevada Irrigation District, from his headquarters in Grass Valley, that the irrigation district and the power company were in agreement except for certain minor points remaining to be straightened out.

The Gold Hill system of ditches serve the Mt. Vernon area, Ophir area, Mt. Pleasant area and the Edgwood and Thermolands districts of Placer county. The population of the combined areas is estimated by Durbrow at 1,500 or more.

The Pacific Gas and Electric company charegs $45 per miners inch per season for irrigation water. The Nevada Irrigation District charges $22 per miners inch per season.

EXPERTS VALUE .46 OF AN ACRE

The jury selected to try the case of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company versus the Bear River Company in which the former seeks an easement for the discharge of 350 cubic feet per second of water additional to the natural flow of the Bear River, yesterday heard several expert witnesses, all engineers of established reputation.

The Bear River company alleges its little .46 of an acre over wwhich the P G & E seeks an easement is worth $250,000, if the property were to be condemned. The land lies at the junction of the Bear River and Greenhorn Creek.

Testimony yesterday for the plaintiff did not bear out the defendant's contention. Ed. Uren, testifying as an expert witness for the P. G .& E. put a valuation for flowage rights of 16 and two-thirds cents per lineal foot for the 412 foot length of the Bear River company's property.

William Maguire for the plaintiff figured 10 cents per lineal foot and considered that rather high. James Stewart figured that $21 should cover perpetual rights to flowage.

J. L. Rollins for the defendant thought that a perpetual flowage right would be worth $2500, which would allow the transport of a million tons of water for 50 cents per month on an interest basis.

The jury consists of the following: Alfred Dana, Byron A. Douglas, J. E. Mooney, Fred C. Juliff, Susan M. Shackleton, William T. Richards, E. Briggs, Richard Rollins, Frank A. Thurston, Ernest Hocking and Wm. Stevenson.

FOUR HOMES IN CITY REMODELED

Building is increasing.

Four Nevada City homes are being remodeled. Carpenters and contractors are becoming busier and busier and busier day by day. Among the home reported by the Nevada County Lumber Company, as in process of renovation are those of:

Dr. Frank McCullough, whose home is on Broad street is remodeling the rear of the cottage to make a first class apartment. The cottage front constitutes a cozy, attractive office.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott who reside on Piety Hill are making alterations and improvements in their home.

Mrs. J. Udnich is building a garage adjoining her home on Nursery st.

P. O. Strandberg is laying new floors in one of his properties and is giving it a general renovation.

Charles H. Jones of Sweetland was a business visitor in Nevada City Tuesday.

OLD FRIENDS QUARREL AND ARE GIVEN 50-50 DECISION IN COURT

The trial of the wage claim of Mrs. Conti against Mrs. Macari, of Glenbrook, for services alleged to have been performed while the latter was in the hospital recovering from the effects of injuries received as the result of an explosive placed in her stove in July, 1931, was heard before Judge Oscar E. Winburn in Grass Valley yesterday morning.

Mrs. Conti instituted the action in which she asked for $75 dollars. Mrs. Macari then filed a counterclaim asking for judgment against Mrs. Conti for $150 for room and board during the past two years. Several witnesses were in court and were examined at length by both sides.

After the testimony had been taken and the matter argued by the attorneys, Judge Winburn expressed his opinion that the facts presented merely showed that two old friends had a falling out and that had they tried to get together no law suit would have resulted. the Judge decided that neither party was entitled to a judgment against the other.

ORE RESERVE IN IDAHO MARYLAND TO LAST YEARS

The mill at the Idaho-Maryland mine between Nevada City and Grass Valley, is operating at capacity on excellent ore from a half dozen faces with new ones showing up from time to time.

They have just completed a large compressor house, which completes its hoisting and transferring plants. They are installing a 44-horsepower compressor with a capacity of 2,800 cubic feet of air to be used in the mine.

Greatest underground activity is carried on in drift operations from the 1400 and 1300 levels, which were cut in from a raise from the 1950 level along the shaft of the ore body. Pretty looking mill rock has been taken from these drifts and also from a new stope opened on the 1500 level, which served to prove up the extent and value of the ore-body.

Preparations are going forward on the 1000 level for the sinking of a winze to the 1300 elevation for the purpose of giving complete circulation of air. The air circuit would mean a downdraft through the main shaft and canyon shaft to the 1950 level and thence up the raise and winze to the 1000 level and out the crosscut to the big 1000 station.

Material is being assembled for the sinking but actual dirt moving has not begun as yet.

By comparison with some of the Mother Lode mines the Idaho-Maryland workings are rather shallow, extending to the 1950 foot level, but it has an ore reserve blocked out that will last for many years of steady production.

The Idaho-Maryland Consolidated Mines Inc., report for 1932, recently released, shows a tonnage yield of 54,245 tons with a ross recovery of $979,420 or an average of $16.82 per ton.

STATE'S OFFICIAL CAR COST DROPS TO $539

Sacramento, April 20, (UP)— High priced automobiles have no further place with state departments.

Rolland A. Vandegrift, director of finance, announced that of 17 cars purchased by the state during March the highest priced one was $539.50.

Development Of Gold Properties In Nevada County Surges Upward

Since the last "Pay Day Special" of the Nevada City Nugget, published March 24, 1933, there has been a steady advance in the Nevada City-Grass Valley section in mining development.

Comparing the list of mining properties published a month ago with that below, it is found that there are today nearly one hundred more men employed, the number now totaling 1303, as against 1208, on March 24, and an increase of $12,000 monthly in payroll, making a total today of over $176,000.

MORE MEN EMPLOYED

Among the big deals recently concluded which mean the employment of more and more miners as development progresses is the California Consolidated Mines, Inc., which has taken over the seventeen claims controlled by the Silver Pick Consolidated Mines company, and which has started clearing away brush around the shaft of the Federal Loan.

The California Consolidated is backed by a strong group of San Francisco capitalists, among whom is L. D. Bacigalupi, former vice president of the Bank of America. Others on the board of directors are F. F. Morse, G. O. Thomas, C. T. Eastman, H. Arnsburger, and Lloyd L. Root, former state mineralogist.

LAVA CAP PROGRESSES

Lava Cap has made steady progress since the last report. The Central Consolidated, one of the principal properties of the company has been unwatered and samples taken from the old workings, according to President Arthur W. Hoge, have shown better values than had been anticipated. In conference with eastern directors of the company, Leslie Jockmus and R. F. D. Le Mon, who have been in Nevada City for several weeks, examining the large holdings of Lava Cap, it has been decided to begin the development of the Banner properties of the company as soon as Lava Cap goes into production.

A new mill will be erected with a capacity of 100 tons per day as soon as lawer levels of the Central This will be one unit of an ultimate 200 ton capacity plant when ore conditions warrant the expansion of mill facilities.

NORMANDIE-DULMAINE

Among other mines which are now being unwatered preparatory to a resumption of operation is the Normandy-Dulmaine in Deadman's Flat. Henry Johnson, in charge of the work, under A. C. Crosby, a Vallejo capitalist who has leased the property from Mack Sennett of Hollywood, has already lowered the water in the shaft below the 100 foot level and has retimbered it as the water drops.

At the 245 foot level is an old sump and there a pump will be installed to help lift out the water as soon as the shaft is emptied to that point. A. R. Archibald, mining engineer of Grass Valley, has secured financial backing and is now engaged in reopening the Norambague and Perrin mine below Grass Valley.

There is quite a lot of equipment and machinery on the property, the main feature being a mill of about 20 stamps.

GO-FORTH ACTIVE

E. H. McMurray and Taylor of Nevada state, who are opening up a mine on the Wm. Hocking ranch in Kentucky ravine ,also known as the Go-Forth property, are very much encounraged with showings of ore at this time.

They have sunk a 60 foot shaft and bought machinery consisting of compressor, hoist and gas engine.

On one ledge at the depth of two feet they claim to have struck ore assaying $14. to the ton.

HYDRAULICKING AT YOU BET

The You Bet mining company in the You Bet and Red Dog section are hydraulicking at the present time with a crew of 15 men.

This company had a good season last fall or up until heavy snows when they were forced to cease for a time. Several weeks ago they again started operating and a good season is anticipated. J. D. Finley is in charge of operations.

MURCHIE FORCE INCREASED

The Murchie mine has increased its working force to 200 men, and is going deeper. According to Fred Searls, engineer-in-chief for the Newmont Mining company, values in the Murchie are improving with depth.

Recent discoveries in the North Star assure continued life for that mine, while in the Empire, it is reported that ore reserves for two years crushing are now available.

Aside from those listed in the table below there are a number of properties which are in the way of beginning operations on a modest scale. Among these are Scott's Flat, Normandie-Dulmaine, Norambague Perrin and others.

WATER LACKING

Owing to lack of water, and in some cases prevalence of snow, gravel mining in the higher altitudes has been somewhat retarded.

Below is the graphic table of the mining industry in Nevada County as it is today:

ENGLEBRIGHT IS WRITING BILL TO AID GOLD MINES

Dispatches from Washington, D. C., yesterday stated that a measure designed to protect the California gold mining industry from the effects of the United States' abandonment of the gold standard was being rushed to completion by Representative Harry L. Englebright.

The California congressman stated that he had not yet completed drafting, but expected to have the meausre ready for introduction tomorrow. In the meantime he declined to reveal the nature of the bil.

"I realize the seriousness of the situation," Englebright said. He added that while he had consulted with the treasury department he was unable to state the administration attitude on proposed plans for aid to the gold mining industry.

GOLD STANDARD ABANDONMENT PUTS PRICES UP

WASHINGTON, April 20— Salient points of America's departure from the gold standard in international exchange were explained by bankers today as follows:

A decision not to ship gold abroad to support the dollar is, in effect, a species of controlled inflation through managed currency.

Lack of support for the dollar in international exchange will send the dollar to a lower price level.

This in turn will enable American exporters to compete on a more even basis with countries whose currency has been depreciated and whose traders have been able to undersell Americans.

Both domestic and international commodity prices are expected to increase, since the monetary unit—the dollar—will be of less value.

The objective of the administration plan is to raise commodity prices and make it advantageous for countries which have deserted the gold standard eventually to return to it together. This would open the way for tariff reductions which would cut away the barriers to a freer distribution of goods in international trade.

TAKING A STAND

The Nugget has been urged to "take a stand" regarding question of the diverting the swimming pool fund to other uses. Herewith we take it.

We are opposed to it.

If we wished to be facetious we would say that if we use that fund now for water system repairs, we never shall have another chance to divert it in case another emergency arises.

But seriously if there were no swimming pool fund, the city council assisted by the fire department and the chamber of commerce would find other means, other funds for making the repairs that now constitute an emergency.

It boils down to a question of expediency, and resolving public questions on a basis of expediency is not always the best long-run policy.

The plea that the times are now so hard that any other means of raising funds for water main repairs would be too onerous for the tax payer to bear, we do not regard as altogether valid.

Times were much harder when the bonds were voted for the swimming pool. Many houses and stores in Nevada City were unoccupied, not a stamp was falling in the near vicinity of Nevada City, and many taxpayers were pinched, yet with a dream of making this city a better place to live, with more of those advantages for theri own children than they had had for themselves, and at the same time making Nevada City more attractive for the increasing number of summer visitors, the people voted the swimming pool bonds. It was an expression of idealism, the salt that savors any community.

Today several mines are operating, there is hardly a house to be rented in Nevada City, and comparatively speaking, this is among the most prosperous cities of California.

When the swimming pool was voted ,the citizens counted it a step forward. If the pool fund is now absorbed in other uses, it must be regarded as nothing less than retreat.

We believe we owe this municipal swimming pool to the children of this city, that they may learn to swim, and possess, in this respect at least, the advantages that children in other cities enjoy. We do not regard it as a municipal extravagance, but as merely keeping step with modern recreational progress.

Now, what shall be done about the water system? All loyal citizens realize that here exists something far more vital to the city's welfare, than a municipal swimming pool.

We suggest this course tentatively, knowing that we must pay our tax share as well as the next fellow:

That we take care of that part of the water system which is in immediate jeopardy, replacing such pipe as must be replaced to assure the city of safety in event of fire, and to maintain health conditions, and in 1934 repeat this process with another section of repairs, and 1935, when the water bonds of $5,000 are authorized to be sold, complete the job of water system renovation.

For this year and next, it might be necessary to levy a small tax, in addition to $1.90 rate paid last year.

Then, having cared for the water system adequately, it would be our thought to arrange with the school board to build a swimming pool on the high school grounds. We believe that the high school board could sell the city a pool site, for an agreed sum, and the pool could be built for much less than $10,000. Then let the high school board use the money received in the sale of a pool site toward building a gymnasium-auditorium, which this school and this community very badly need.

However, if the judgment of the community, expressed at the polls, be to follow the leadership of the city council, the fire department and the chamber of commerce in voting away the swimming pool fund for water system repairs, we shall accept the resullt cheerfully. We have no criticism for those who think differently from us. It would be sad, drab world if everyone thought alike.

THE PAY STREAK

By H. M. L.

We have three organizations which volunteer their services to the city without pay of any kind.

One is the City Council, which goes through the form of being elected, but candidates must and do volunteer their services and are chosen by a majority upon their merits as public spirited citizens.

A second is the fire department, purely voluntary, which takes all the risks incident to putting out fires, serving the community unselfishly, each generation recruiting new members so that for a matter of more than 70 years this city has been continuously served. The members by necessity are generally young men and among young men is found the most progressive element of any community.

The Chamber of Commerce is another voluntary organization which assesses its members to produce the funds for doing those material things which aid in the progress of the city, and in long run make life better and more worth living, adding a little bit year by year to the well being of the community.

Now all three of these organizations are much in favor of transferring the swimming pool fund to the use of the city in making repairs to the city water system and in retiring a part of the city's outstanding water bonds. Of the urgent necessity of repairing the city's water mains and carrying properly for the city's reservoirs, hardly anyone, even those opposed to the use of the swimming pool money for that purpose, will dispute.

* * *

In this connection we wish to plead mea culpa, for negligence in permitting a tax payer in a letter appearing in last Friday's issue to impugn the good faith of the city council and the fire department. We are sorry this happened for another reason, namely, it tends to dewlect disinterested discussion of the city council's proposal to matters that have no relation to it.

* * *

We are sure of this, that citizens considering dispassionately the whole subject, feel nothing but gratitude to those who devote their time and emergies to preserving our homes from fire, and if need arises, our lives from destruction. In the case of the city council, which administers our government receiving too little praise for their work, and like the fire department, no salary whatever, the least we can do is to be thankful that someone will undertake a task, which is too often thankless.

If we must differ in matters of policy or judgment, with any or all these organizations mentioned, which serve the city unselfishly and to the best of their ability, let us differ courteously, admitting the proneness of human beings to err, including ourselves.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS ASK TAX EXEMPTION AGAIN

SACRAMENTO, April 20—(UP)—Millions of dollars of property valuation would be taken off the tax rolls throughout the entire state if a proposed constitutional amendment exempting private, non-profit high and elementary schools is passed by the legislature and later approved by the electorate.

Introduced by Assemblyman C. W. Dempster, this amendment provides some 500 schools—296 Catholic, 115 Seventh day adventists and the remainder of other denominations—would not be taxed.

Dempster said his amendment was designed to protect a $10,000,000 annual saving now enjoyed by taxpayers, due to the fact these schools are educating approximately 100,000 children without cost to the state.

"The depression plus taxes are threatening the future of the schools," he said. "Tax exemption will save them. Should they close, taxpayers will be called upon to furnish equipment and teachers to educate their pupils."

Reports in the legislature indicate that at least one man high up in the clergy is not in favor of the amendment.

SIDELIGHTS ON SOLON SESSION

SACRAMENTO, April 21—(UP)—When it comes to simon-pure independence—an independence that hurdles friendship or party ties—Senator William P. Rich, outspoken senator from Marysville, takes first place in the upper house.

Rich doesn't mingle in every fight that comes up. But when he does participate, the fur flies. There's something refreshing about the way this northern Californian bangs into a fight. He is a past master at the art of invective and sarcasm. And he has a forceful manner of address that holds attention to the end.

The senator has his prejudices—even his best friends admit that—and often he may be wrong; but once he makes up his mind on an issue, nothing can change his course. He smashes into the fight savagely and fights tenaciously to the end, letting the chips fall where they may.

An example was Rich's opposition to the truck bill introduced and was sponsored by his good friend Senator Charles Deuel. The two men sit next to each other. They come from adjacent senatorial districts with similiar interests. Yet it was Rich's white-hot speech that did more than anything else to kill the measure.

Senator Ralph Swing, San Bernardino, has produced the perfect retort to newspapermen. Swarms of reporters prodded him with queries about a subject he was loath to reveal. "You are simply being evasive," one exasperated newsman exclaimed. "O. W. boy; if you want to, you can quote me as being 'evasive,'" Swing replied with a smile.

Unusual, to say the least, is the senate's effort to revive its pet school supervision bill. This measure, passed by the senate, was killed in assembly committee. The senate pulled a "fast one." A bill, exactly the same as the one interred in assembly committee, was brought onto the floor of the upper house and passed. Purpose of this strategy was the possibility the bill may be refferred to the assembly ways and means committee which would be likely to give it a "do pass" recommendation.

The legislature's economy trend has a tendency to backfire occasionally. Take, for instance a bill to turn back into the general fund any surplus in the state university fund." It costs approximately $50, counting printing and everything, to put a measure through the legislature. There was only $3.45 in the "university fund." Net loss: $46.35.

Refusal of the senate judiciary committee to investigate Senator J. M. Inman, Sacramento at Governor Rolph's request, ended in a blaze of forensic glory. The governor said the committee was guilty of "Moral Strabismus." Senator Rich replied the governor was guilty of practicing "ophathalmosttametry." Rolph said the expression he used meant "cock-eyed." Rich's 75-cent, 19-letter word, remained unexplained.

A. J. Mason, chief assembly clerk 42 years ago, dropped into the lower house to see if legislative procedure had changed much during the past four decades.

Presumably, newspapers are entitled to print anything that is publicly related on the floor of the legislature. Senator Swing told a story to demonstrate his argument on a bill. The story was so risque, not even the most venturesome newspaperman in the senate dared print it. Incidentally, the story sent the senate into uproarious laughter.

LEGISLATORS TO GET THEIR FARE

SACRAMENTO, April 20,—(UP)—Don't be too sure the legislature will recess May 5, until mid-summer when, if a tax plan is approved at a June special election, enabling acts will be passed. The legislature may adjourn instead, with the governor convoking a special session later on. Here's why:

In case of recess, legislators pay their own travelling expenses when they return. In event of special session, the state pays the bill.

No signed bill, unless bearing an urgency clause, becomes effective until 90 days after adjournment. If this session did not adjourn until midsummer, laws would not become effective until around November 1.

The effect would be tremendous. One instance: Pari-mutuel horse race betting bill would not become law until after the season was over. And hundreds of thousands of dollars revenue would be lost.

In case of adjournment May 5, bills would become effective in the early August. One argument against special session is the legislature must limit itself to subjects specified before it convenes. Many feel wider latitude is required.

The senate investigating committee's delay in handing down the final installment of its report is actually retarding governmental procedure. The governor has a tremendous pile of work on his desk—a new budget balancing plan; appointments; transfers of appointees and the like—but he's unable apparently, to think of much else but the report. Seldom does a reporter or legislator approach the governor these days without having the executive turn towards him with a worried frown: "Is that final report out yet? Is there nothing we can do to hurry it up? I want to get this matter cleaned up."

Thanks to political strategy, the pari-mutuel bill got through . . . . the person that thought of diverting the state's cut of the pari-mutuel pools to state and county was a master mind . . . that's what garnered needed votes in the upper house . . . the bill providing the state should issue $160,000,000 in bonds to finance the self-Liquidating Great Central Valley water project is virtually certain to get out of committee . . . Fight against drastic slashes in governmental costs has switched to a number of senate finance sub-committees . . . there's some indication the senate may revise upward the assembly ways and means committee's $240,000,000 budget . . many senators feel some cuts were inexecusably low . . . watch legislative news closely next few weeks . . you're likely to read of some battle royals that will make state legislative history.

Mrs. Elsie P. Willoughby is going away today for a visit with friends in Sonoma county. She hopes to the change will be beneficial to her health Her daughter, Eleanor, will remain to continue at high school, while she will take her son, Ralph, with her.

EXPORTS GAINING ON WEST COAST

West Coast export statistics for the month of April may be expected to show substantial increases in the shipments to foreign shores of several commodities and foodstuffs, according to the International Banking Department of Bank of America.

During the last two weeks, velocity of letters of credit and bills of lading has indicated a sharp upturn in the exportation of a number of staples, according to bank officials. Notable in this regard is the exportation of brewing barley to the United Kingdom, which has given rise to the supposition that Great Britian anticipates reciprocal exportation of beer and ale.

Other commodities which are being exported in increased volume include cocoanut cake, canned fruit, dried fruits and lumber. Scandinavian countries and the United Kingdom are the principal sources of the increased demand, with China absorbing larger amounts of wood products.

The advance in foreign demand for raw materials followed closely upon the recent rise of commodity prices and is continuing in anticipation of some form of inflation, it is believed.

FOUR FIREMEN ANSWER LETTER OF LUDWIG NETZ

Four of the Fire Department leaders in a letter to the Editor of the Nugget, reply to the communication of Ludwig Netz' published in last Friday's issue. The four are: R. R. Goyne, Howard Penrose, R. L. P. Bigelow and R. Wright. Their letter follows:

Nevada City, California

Editor
Nevada City Nugget.
Dear Sir:

Taking advantage of your open forum column, we the undersigned members of the Nevada City Fire Department, submit the following for the consideration of your readers:

"When the Nevada City Fire Department proposed the movement to divert the swimming pool fund to be used in financing the urgently necessary repairs and improvements to the citys water supply system, it was not with the intention of entering into any unpleasant controversy. There was immediate need for quick action and it was obvious that the easiest way out for the alreday overburdened tax payer was the use of that sum as it was considered that an adequate water supuply was of more importance to the city than a swimming pool.

However, the Fire Department does not dispute the right of any one to express his opinions or put forth his argument in a fair and open manner. That is every ones privilege. But as members of the Fire Delegates Committee of Investigation, we can not but take exception to a recent article appearing in the local papers which accuses the City Council and the Nevada City Firemen of attempting to "pull the wool" over the eyes of the city voters.

With the exception of one truck driver who is paid by the city, the Nevada City Fire Department is purely a volunteer organization, the chief object of which is to protect the lives and property of the people of the community, and to assist in any way possible to promote the welfare of the town. And aside from the appreciation and commendation of people to whom service has been rendered, the firemen receive no remuneration whatever ,and in not a few instances he has nothing but ruined clothing and shoes for his efforts.

What does the volunteer firemen get out of the privilege of protecting property that should cause him to go "wool pulling." He gets only the satisfaction of knowing that he is doing his bit and helping his neighbor in time of stress. True the firemen have their social events and good times together, but these events are paid for from their own pockets in the way of monthly dues and personal assessments. The firemen get nothing out of their department but what they themselves put into it.

Just pause a moment and consider does firemen "pull the wool" over your eyes when he comes at your request, and after his days work, on Sunday, giving up his hours of rest and recreation to burn the dry grass in the vacant lot which menaces your own property? And is he still inclined to deceive you when at the tap of the alarm he leaves his work or business to put out the incipient blaze that could render you homeless?

What about the times when you are snug and warm in your bed, and he has rushed half dressed to enter a building bursting into flames, when choking with smoke, risking burns and bodily injury from flames falling timbers and bricks, all the time fighting like a demon, till the fires is out, and while you're still snug and warm in your bed. He makes his way home drenching to the skin with water, tired and cold with the chance of contracting a severe cold or something worse. Does he do all this that he may have the privilege of slipping something over on you.

Did the firemen nav eany such object in view when they organized themselves and the citizens into a volunteer crew that brought the water to you during the recent water famine. Few can appreciate the extreme apprehension of the same so called "wool pulling" firemen because the inadequate storage reservoirs rendered them virtually helpless in case of fire. Nor again, when the flow of water had been assured, the bursting of the weakened water mains and the resulting loss of stored water imposed an added problem.

The Nevada City Fire Department IS NOT trying to "pull the wool" over any ones eyes. We want all to see as we do—that under the existing economic stringency, it is beyond a doubt highly advisable to divert the swimming pool money to the more general, urgent, protective and sensible use as outlined in the proposal to with it place our water storage and supply system in a condition which will assure our citizens of uninterrupted water supply fire protection and sanity service.

CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS SILVER

Washington, April 20—Secretary Hull indicated that among the subjects to be taken up in the Washington conversations with leading statesmen of other countries in preparation for the world economci conference would be restoration of the price of silver and control of wheat surpluses.

The silver question, he said, is now figuring in the Anglo-American discussions carried on through Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador.

"The question of developing new and enlarged industrial uses for silver" is emphasized as worthy of careful consideration in the formal agenda for the economic conference. Also advocated for consideration is possible improvement of methods of marketing the metal by producers and currency authorities.

Other possibilities are increased use of silver as coins by the principal nations; and purchase by leading countries now on the gold standard or desiring to return to it, of a stipulated amount of silver to be added to the reserves of central banks.

Hull emphasized, however, that nothing resembling decisions have been made in the Anglo-American conversations.

He added that the forthcoming exchanges of views through parleys may develop concrete proposals which will be feasible for consideration at the world conference.

As to wheat, the secretary of state told reporters that naturally the wheat growing countries were taking a keen interest in the surpluses. But that the point of dealing with them in detail had not yet been reached.

MRS. KATE M. SULLIVAN

FRENCH CORRAL, April 17—The weather? Well it just keeps us guessing! A sudden jump from winter into summer and then back with a rebound into ice cold, makes one exclaim. Well! What next?

Tuesday morning found ice on the water bucket, yet we do not think the fruit was damaged much.

Easter was a cold grey day, with showers, yet there was lots of sunshine in the hearts of little children in their happy hunt for "bunny eggs".

While we had not the advantage of Easter service here, many were made happy by visits from friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chatty and two boys, Mr. Chatty's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Adams came from San Francisco to spend Easter with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Culver. They returned to San Francisco Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Wilcoxson of Drum, and Mrs. E. Hartung of Plasant Valley were Easter visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Culver.

Miss Frances Moulton came from Sacramento Saturday evening and accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moulton, went to Nevada City to spend Easter with their daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Dudley.

Mrs. Mollie Ross and two granddaughters and a friend's little girl, and Mrs. Myrtle McLean, her daughter, and Mr. G. Colton, came from Sacramento Easter Sunday and visited with old friends in French Corral. Mrs. Ross is a native of French Corral, and all her early life was spent in this place with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Campbell, who were of the party of early pioneers.

Mr. Denny of Bridgeport was an Easter guest of the Browning family.

Mr. M. O'Connor and sister, Mrs. M. Madden and Miss Therese O'Connor, accompanied their brother, Arthur to Sacramento Thursday. Mrs. Madden and Miss Therese O'Connor remained in Sacramento to visit their sister, Miss Lucy O'Connor,, until Sunday evening, when they returned to their home in Birchville.

J. Swazey spent Easter with his family in Nevada City.

Tom Williams returned to French Corral Tuesday after being absent from this place since last August. His many friends were glad to see him back again.

Mrs. L. Franciscovich and her son, Clyde Bishop, and wife, and nephew E. Dillon and E. Jarvis came from Marysville Tuesday after having an Easter visit with friends. Mrs. Franciscovich will remain for the week.

E. Brandt and Mrs. A. Barnum made a trip to Auburn Tuesday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Murray of that place, who had been visiting them.

Our supervisor, Joseph Frank, of Rough and Ready, has been doing some much needed road work during the past week on French Corral hill, and also on Empire Flat. He has a large corp of men at work. It has been heavy work as it was necessary to blast the rocky hillside all the way. It will be a fine piece of work when finished. In all the years past we have never had good roads until Mr. Frank became our supervisor

NORTH BLOOMFIELD

By MRS. RALPH PENROSE

NORTH BLOOMFIELD, April 20—Mrs. H. S. Brown returned from the city with her new baby Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs Charles Goldsberry returned Tuesday after a short stay in the city.

Harold Coombs returned home after four days stay in Graniteville. He was breaking road from Snow Tent saw mill to Graniteville. On top of Cherry Hill for a distance of five or six hundred feet he said there was six feet of snow left in the road which will have to be shoveled out before autos can get through.

Mr. Coombs hauled freight from Graniteville to Tahoe sugar pine mill with four feet of snow on the road at Bowman. The snow is melting very fast and the lake is filling.

NORTH BLOOMFIELD, April 14—After school hours yesterday there was an Easter Hunt for the children of North Bloomfield, with candy and Easter eggs, hid in and around the school yard. After the hunt was over refreshments were served to the children, they were cake and punch. A very good time was enjoyed.

FOUR GENERATIONS AT NOR. BLOOMFIELD DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kempster, Mrs. L. Richards and daughter, Marilyn, spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Dudley and Mr. and Mrs. John Herboth and daughter, Mary June. Mrs. Mary Curnow of Nevada City spent Easter with Mrs. Curnow's daughter, Mrs. E. B. Dudley. This made four generations at the Easter dinner given by Mrs. Dudley.

BLUE TENT

Mrs. Kirkham ha sreturned after a month's visit with relatives and friends at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Campbell's daughter from Nevada City spent Easter Sunday with them.

STATE MUST RETURN U. S. BORROWED BLANKETS

SACRAMENTO, April 20, (UP)—Because the federal government has issued a call for the return of borrowed army blankets, it will be necessary to close the California state labor camps by not later than April 30.

The blankets, loaned to the state, will be used in the civilian conservation camps of the federal government.

At the peak of the season, state labor camps housed approximately 7,000 men who worked on fire trail construction and conservation projects in exchange for housing, food, clothing and tobacco.

AN IRRIGATION PEST MUSKRAT FARM NOW

BIEBER, April 22, (UP)—Muskrats and irrigation projects do not mix.

As a result members of the Big Valley Water Users Association have declared war on the little fur-bearing animals.

It seems that muskrat propagation started in this district on a "fur farm" five years ago. Since that time the muskrats have multiplied so fast they are threatening dams and dikes and constitute a "real menace" to the area.

Now you can always depend upon punctual meals

ELECTRIC RANGES obey orders
...SO SIMPLE...SO EASY TO OPERATE

Simplified Cooking BY ELECTRIC TIME CONTROL BY ELECTRIC TEMPERATURE CONTROL

GONE is all the hurry and worry in cooking. No more need for rush to meet meal time with meals on time. You hate all the last minute rush that makes you nervous trying to do half a dozen things at one time.

Well, you can put an end to all this and still have punctual meals every meal time, every day. The electric range permits women to prepare meals ahead of time, a half day ahead and more, and then like a second maid in the kitchen the electric time and temperature controls take charge of the actual cooking.

Why is this wonderful convenience possible? It's because the electric range is educating women to cook an easier, simpler way, preparing oven meals that are at once more economical, tastier, and more healthful.

Bring this new certainty of cooking into your home with an electric range that obeys orders. Enjoy the freedom it will give, the convenience, and yes, even the economy that its simpler cooking method brings. Make your selection of an electric range at the nearest P. G. and E. office or your electric dealer's store. Prices this year for electric ranges are no more than those for any other good range and purchase terms are liberal.

The Crooners

I've never seeen a crooner.
But I have heard scores croon
In vibratory measures
Of moonlight, love and June;
And often have I wondered,
As sob stuff moaned around
If all these soulful crooners
Were sappy as they sound.

They wail, "I'll call you Sugar,"
And, "Precious, hold my Hand;"
The rhapsodies of yearning
Dismay the weary land;
Fond hearts with love are bursting,
Of this they sadly sing,
And then we hear the snapping
Of every quivering string.

In fancy I behold them,
Their faces stark with pain,
Their wild eyes staring skyward,
Like dying ducks in rain;
Alas, too well I hear them,
And so indeed do you,
And fret because they're feeling
So ghastly sad and blue.

O, Crooners, give us respite
The days are brighter now;
Come, smooth the corrugations
That mar each youthful brow;
Be happy, give us music,
To match a brighter day,
Fold up those mawkish sob songs
And give us something gay.

A. MERRIAM CONNER.

"Mother" Crim

TO MRS. ELIZA CLINEDINST Crim, who died recently at the age of ninety-four years in New Market, Va., the title of "Mother" was a term of military tribute. It was a title of honor earned at the Battle of New Market in May of 1864, when Mrs. Crim "mothered" as she nursed scores of wounded and dying boys, members of that famous band of Virginia Military institute cadets whose gallant charge is the high spot of this battle.

In the spring of '64 the superior numbers and greater resources of the North were beginning to tell against the South. Two years earlier "Stonewall" Jackson's campaign in the Shenandoah valley had successfully cut General McClellan off from auxiliary troops and thwarted his plans. Now, hoping for similar results, General Lee sent General Early up the valley. In spite of heavy odds, Early won several victories and even threatened Washington before General Sheridan defeated him at Winchester and forced his retreat to the South.

It was in one of these victories that the V. M. I. cadets played their brilliant part. The little company, ranging from fourteen to nineteen years in age, had been hurried up from Lexington by a forced march of three days to be on hand in case of emergency. They were a spirited band, afire with patriotism, eager for action. Although it had been planned to hold them in reserve, the outnumbering forces of the enemy and their own insistence won them a place in the very front line. There they held their position for several hours, under heavy artillery fire and infantry attack, and at the decisive moment made a spectacular charge to victory! Years later Mrs. Crim described that charge: "I saw the terrible shells explode right in front of the line of cadets as they charged down Shirley's hill. The deadly fire cut gaps in their line, but they closed up and without faltering they moved forward to victory and death."

The wounded were carried to the old Rice home in New Market, now the Virginia Knights of Pythias orphanage. There Mrs. Crim took charge, nursing, comforting, mothering. One of her strongest memories was of the devotion of the cadets for each other. She told how Moses Ezekiel, later the famous sculptor of V. M. I.'s memorial "Virginia Mourning her Dead," carried a wounded comrad into the house and held him dying in his arms. Mrs. Crim holds the only medal of valor ever awarded by the Virginia Military institute.

It Takes More Than Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, or Laxative Pills to Arouse a Sluggish Liver

They Give Only Temporary Relief From Constipation and Biliousness, Because They Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile

Bile is nature's own laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, putrefaction, gas and disease germs.

When your liver becomes torpid or sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills will remove the cause of this condition and purify your entire system in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative at all.

Five years ago it was generally believed that calomel and laxative drugs stimulated the liver, but modern science has proved that calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils and other laxatives have no effect whatever on the liver.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills act directly on the liver because they contain two amazing substances which highest medical authorities agree are the only effective stimulants to the bile-producng activity of the liver known to modern science. These substances stimulate and invigorate the liver to cleanse and purify itself through increasing its production of bile. This fresh bile immediately starts to work neutralizing acids and poisons, stopping fermentation and decay, cleansing and purifying the bowels and sweeping out accumulated poisons.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel years younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two known substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.

Only 60c for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.

CUT PROTESTED BY GAME BOARD

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20—"If the legislature takes from the Division of Fish and Game, some $600,000 during the next two years, as contemplated in bill 675 passed out of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, it will be breaking faith with the men and women who buy a half-million hunting and fishing licenses each year."

This was the declaration of J. Dale Gentry, president of the Fish and Game Commission, when he appeared before the subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee.

"These men and women," Gentry out, "brought these licenses with the understanding that the money was to be used for the production, distribuiton and protection of fish and Game, and it should not be diverted for any other purpose."

Continuing, he said, "They pay all other taxes, federal, county, city, gasoline and auto, and above this they voluntairily pay each year from $2, to $5 more for the privilege of hunting and fishing.

"The Division of Fish and Game is in a business unlike any other branch of the state government. It is in the production business, and when a license is sold it not only gives the privilege to hunt and fish, but also the assurance that it will produce fish and game to replace that which is taken by anglers and hunters, and that killed by predators and disease.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR WILL YOUNG TODAY

Will Young passed peacefully away at his Park Avenue home Tuesday evening near midnight. He was born on the same street on February 8, 65 years ago. Except for a short time in Oregon his whole life was spent in Nevada County.

Mr. Young was engaged in mining and blacksmithing for many years, later operating a milk route in Nevada City successfully. Within the last few years he had been in the employ of the county and about a year ago he suffered an injury to his back that developed into the serious ailment to which he succumbed after months of suffering with the last few hours being peaceful.

Forty two years ago last January he married Miss Minnie Delbridge of Nevada City, who survives him. He is also survived by five living children, Harold Young of Oakland, Mrs. Nye Johnson, William R. Young Mrs. Will Hatch, Miss Beth Young, four grandchildren, a brother, James Young, and three cousins, Mrs. Florence Evans, Mrs. Henry Schoeder of Nevada City and Mrs. Fred Miller of Grass Valley.

Mr. Young was an upright, honorable citizen, devoted to his family and always took an interest in civic affairs.

He had been a member of Oustomah lodge of Odd Fellows for many years. Burial is to take place this afternoon at two o'clock from the Holmes Funeral Home with Rev. H. H. Buckner conducting the religious services and Oustomah lodge giving their impressive funeral service.

CLOSING ORDERED IN CERTAIN STREAMS, LAKES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20—Acting under authority granted by the legislature of 1927, the State Fish and Game Commission has prepared a list of streams and lakes in California that have been closed to trout fishing during the coming season.

The list of waters in this section affected by these closing orders follow:

NEVADA AND PLACER COUNTIES: Donner Creek from its junction with the Truckee River to the outlet of Donner Lake and all tributaries of that portion of said stream.

PLACER COUNTY: Blackwood Creek and its tributaries from its junction with the South Fork of N. of Little Truckee) and all its tributaries.

MINE INSURANCE BILL PASSES, TAX ON GOLD LIFTED

The first of a series of bills designed to aid the mining industry in securing a reduction of the high cost of compensation insurance introduced by Assemblyman Jesse M. Mayo, passed the assembly last week with little opposition. The bill which is known as A. B. No. 2263, will force insurance carriers to segregate the various occupations on mine property for the purpose of fixing rates. At the present time an office stenographer on mining property costs the company $11.85 per hundred dollar payroll, while possibly just across the street in some other industry the cost is only 8 cents. The new law provides for three classifications of mine workers, underground, surface and office help. It is felt that with this injustice to the mining industry corrected, an aggregate reduction of possibly 25 per cent can be had.

GOLD BULLION EXEMPT

Assemblyman Mayo has also secured an amendment to the Riley-Stewart tax plan which is now before the legislature, which will exempt gold bullion from the proposed one cent transaction tax. In presenting his amendment to the house, Mayo told the assembly that raw gold shiould be exempt from the proposed tax, inasmuch as the price of gold was fixed by the United States government and therefore could not be passed on to the consumer as could other commodities. He also told the members that many mines working low-grade ore might be forced to cease operation if a one-cent gross tax was imposed. The assembly adopted the amendment without further debate.

Senators Dan E. Williams of Tuolumne county, A. L. Peirovich of Amador county, Jerold Seawell of Placer county and Joe Riley of Inyo county, all in the sixth assembly district are solidly behind these bills and will work for their passage in the senate.

BALLOT AS BIG AS A BLANKET MAY BE NEEDED

SACRAMENTO, April 20, (UP) —If all constitutional amendments submitted to the state legislature were approved and as a result placed before the people at an election it would be necessary to have a ballot as big as a blanket. In addition the election would of necessity last several days.

To date there have been submitted 103 proposed changes to the constitution.

Legislators are sure they won't all pass and that those than do can probably be taken care of on a ballot of regular size.

GOLD BUYER REPORTS INCREASE IN BUSINESS

W. I. May, gold buyer of Colfax, reports a near 50 per cent increase in his purchases of gold last year over the combined purchases of the preceding two years. Respective figures are 1929, $3,400; 1930, $6,000; and 1932, $13,205.

Up to March 11, May had shipped $1,850 to the mint since January first of this year. This is about $750 more than during the corresponding period of 1932, and there is every indication that the 1933 shipments will far exceed the 1932 total.

PAY DAY

When the pay ship sailed thru the Golden Gate
In the days of long ago,
There was jubilee in "them thar hills"
Where the golden rivers flow;
And pay day was a jolly day
For bewhiskered forty niners,
And it ain't no slouch of a joy day now,
For our husky modern miners.

There still is gold in "them thar hills,"
The payroll's fairly healthy,
The merchants and the miners too
In many ways are wealthy;
So if you have a tale to tell,
To your own paper lug it,
You'll find it PAYS to ADVERTISE
In NEVADA COUNTY'S NUGGET.
